British At Polls; Large Vote Seen

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(P)—Britons formed the most important queue of the past five years as they lined up today to mark their "x's" for or against reelecting their Socialist government.

A record vote in the national elections was expected as lines formed early and steady streams began moving through polling stations all over this island kingdom.

The choice before more than 34,000,000 voters:

Re-election of Prime Minister Clement Attlee's Laborites, pledged to put still more industries under state control; or a return to the Conservative rule of wartime Premier Winston Churchill, who promised to halt the nationalization but keep most of Britain's welfare state.

Few women, long accustomed to queuing in shops, turned out for the early voting. One of them, however, was Mrs. Winston Churchill. Mrs. Churchill was smiling as she arrived at the polling station. Her husband and his wife already had voted by mail.

The prime minister and Mrs. Attlee were cheered by a large crowd when they arrived at Labor party headquarters in Whitehall. Mrs. Churchill was seen in a section of London where Attlee is a candidate.

Attlee shook hands with workmen repairing the street and joked: "I feel fine and I'm glad the weather's fine. Otherwise my opponent would blame me for the weather." No incidents had been reported. But London's famous "Bobbies" were primed for huge crowds which are expected to jam Trafalgar Square and Piccadilly Circus tonight to watch election results.

Churchill himself arrived to vote at St. Stephen's a couple of hours later. He was cheered as he waved his familiar "V" sign and stopped to pat the cheek of a little girl who handed him some flowers.

The voting was expected to be close. Victory for the Laborites—in power since July, 1945—hangs chiefly on domestic issues.

For these people of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland neither party promised any relaxation of the bleak austerity under which Britons have lived since wartime. And no party has suggested dropping the ambitious social services established after the Laborites came to power in 1945.

So the choice for Mr. and Mrs. John Bull is based on which kind of government they think will keep the breadwinner employed, lower their heavy taxes, boost their salaries and cut their living costs.

In London and many parts of Eastern England the voters had

Senators Trying To Kill Potato Price Supports

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(P)—Senate leaders tried again today to get action on a cotton acreage bill which also would halt price supports for potatoes.

The bill originally was scheduled for a vote early this week. But with the exception of a brief flurry of debate Monday, it has received scant attention.

The house has approved a bill revising cotton and peanut acreages set up by a 1949 act. The senate agriculture committee discarded the peanut acreage boost, cut the amount of the house cotton increase, and added a controversial rider intended to prevent future potato surpluses.

This amendment would eliminate all federal price supports for potatoes not planted at the time of the bill's enactment, unless the crop was brought under strict marketing quotas to discourage overproduction.

Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.), who sponsored that provision, said tax payers have paid out $450,000,000 for surplus potatoes under the farm price support program since the war.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) has offered an amendment to halt all potato imports when there is a surplus in this country, or when potatoes are under marketing agreements.

New FEPC Bill Passes

NO PENALTIES SET FORTH IN NEW MEASURE

No Discrimination On Jobs Approved In House Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(P)—The house passed today a fair employment practices (FEPC) bill stripped of enforcement provisions. The vote was 240 to 177.

The bill, far short of what President Truman wanted, now goes to the senate. The house action came after a debate that started at noon yesterday and ran into early this morning.

The bill that finally emerged from the house for so far short of what Mr. Truman wanted that many of its original supporters refused to vote for it. Southern Democrats opposed it solidly. They were largely responsible for having knocked all the enforcement teeth from the proposal.

It expresses a policy that there should be no discrimination against minority groups in job opportunities and seeks to avert such discrimination through persuasion and education. It provides no penalties for anyone violating its major provisions.

Just before the final vote, the house beat down a move to shelve the bill by sending it back to the house labor committee. The vote on that was 239 to 177.

The bill was tentatively approved after Southern civil rights opponents had filibustered relentlessly against an anti-job discrimination measure with enforcement teeth, backed by President Truman's forces.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 23.—(P)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander's chief defense lawyer asserted today that the cancer-ridden woman he is accused of killing was dead before he injected air into her veins.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 23.—(P)—The state said today Dr. Hermann N. Sander admitted taking the life of a suffering 59-year-old woman cancer patient with air injections administered at the urging of her husband.

Attorney General William L. Phinney told a jury of 13 men that "the motive behind any determined and premeditated killing has no bearing whether it be good or bad—the results are the same."

Phinney also said the evidence would show that the 41-year-old woman died before Dr. Sander injected 10 cubic centimeters of air intravenously four times, and that the patient died within 10 minutes.

He quoted Dr. Sander as saying that he passed away peacefully and quietly after the injections.

During cross-examination of the first state witness—Dr. Harold I. Loverud, president of the staff of the hospital—Defense Counsel Louis E. Wynan indicated the defense may contend the patient was dead when the injections were made.

The defense lawyer asked Loverud if another doctor—Albert Snay—had seen her at 11:15 a. m. on the day she died before Dr. Sander entered her room and before any air injections, and then pronounced her dead; also would he have been able to give reliable information?

Dr. Loverud replied "yes."

Phinney then questioned Dr. Loverud on redirect examination and asked:

"Do you know of any treatment which involves the introduction of air into the circulatory system by means of a syringe?"

"No Sir," was the reply.

"As a doctor can you tell us any reason for injecting air into the veins of a person who is dead?"

"No Sir."

"Can you conceive of such a reason?"

He's Not a Spy, This Senator; He's Just Trying To Get Rid Of Dentures

BY ERNEST G. WARREN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(P)—"I'm not guilty of subversive activities," Rep. Cotton (R-NH) is telling his constituents. "I'm just trying to get rid of my old dentures."

Cotton sends a weekly report to the voters in his district. This week it was a wistful report indeed.

"Old age," he observed, "creeps on space and once more, am spending time in the dentist's chair. The partial plates I have been wearing no longer suffice."

"Monday I returned from the dentist, dependent, and threw them into the wastebasket."

"Tuesday I was called from the floor of the House and found two members of the Capitol police waiting for me. One of them with great ceremony handed me the old dentures."

Cotton said that the more he thought about it, the more he incident worried him.

"Can it be," he wondered, "that I too am under the cloud of suspicion that hangs over Washington, so that even my wastebasket is being watched?"

But that was nothing compared to the really big problem:

"How," he asked his constituents, "am I going to get rid of these dentures? Must I steal down to the Potomac River some dark night and throw them in?"

"Perhaps if I do I shall be seized by the minions of the law and accused of destroying 'pumpkin papers' or other dangerous activity."

"If you read that your representative is guilty of subversive activity," he concluded, "don't believe it."

Miners, Operators Believed Nearer Strike Settlement

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(P)—John L. Lewis and coal operators were reported today to have narrowed the gap between them in the long drawn out haggling over a new mining contract.

The report—officially unconfirmed from either side—was that operators had offered to increase slightly the financial concessions they previous had proposed.

It came from sources close to the negotiations and sent a surge of hope through government officials struggling to get the mines back into production and end the famine that already has brought rationing and "brownouts," child homes, curtailed schools and industrial production in many areas.

Pressure was building up on both sides to reach agreement.

For Lewis time was running out. He is confronted with the danger of multi-million dollar fines on the United Mine Workers Union if the miners are still on strike tomorrow.

Bearing on the operators was the increasing talk among some pro-labor members of congress that the government should seize the mines and retain any profits made while the pits were under federal control.

The seizure question was brought in casually during a session of a senate judiciary committee when William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was the witness.

Green told the senators he feels sure the miners would go back to work if the government seized the coal pits.

He added that he is "not sure" the time for seizure has arrived, but that he had read in the newspapers that "the situation is critical in some places."

Green was before the committee to oppose a bill that would make labor unions subject to the anti-trust laws.

There continued to be talk that congress might vote power for the president to seize the mines and tell the miners to work as government employees. The White House said nothing.

This is Lewis' last chance because tomorrow at 9 a. m. (CST), the United Mine Workers are under orders from Judge Richmond B. Keach to "show cause" why they should not be found in contempt of court. If the union explanations don't satisfy the judge, there will be a formal hearing on Monday on contempt order.

In Judge Keach who issued a back-to-work order on Feb. 11 that has been flatly ignored by the miners. They have stayed away from the pits, crying "No work, no work."

Lewis instructed them to go back, he too, may come in for Judge Keach's attentions.

Lewis and the operators were deadlocked over new contract terms.

Whether Lewis and the operators were close to agreement on a new pact after more than ten months of negotiations remained to be seen. Neither side would say there had been any progress.

The mounting effect of the coal shortage was another incentive toward agreement.

A state of emergency was declared in Erie, Pa., a city of 140,000. Under it, all industries will close down near Sunday and Monday, and maybe still another day next week.

Moving bands of pickets swept down on non-union mines in Pennsylvania. Three men were beaten near Clearfield. State police estimated that $4,000 damage was done.

6 Hooded Bandits Stage Bold Home Jewel Robbery

CLEVELAND, Feb. 23.—(P)—Six hooded bandits boldly burst into the spacious home of multi-millionaire William G. Mather early today, slugged his wife and got away with jewelry valued at between $200,000 and $800,000.

Mather, 83-year-old honorary board chairman of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., slept through the entire operation.

The robbers entered the main residence through a servant's entrance. One of the seven servants heard them.

Then they sauntered into a second-floor bedroom, where the 60-year-old Mrs. Mather was asleep. She awoke to find a man standing over her with a sub-machine gun.

She screamed. This woke Walter Russell, 72, a male nurse, sleeping in a room adjoining to the aging Mather.

To stop her screams, the man with sub-machine gun struck her on the side of the face. Then Russell came running into her room.

Two of the robbers bound and gagged him.

They then got the jewelry from a cabinet and escaped.

SCHOOL, CITY IN ACCORD ON SINKING FUND

Independent District To Receive $46,750 Under Agreement

Acceptance of a division of the interest and sinking fund of the city whereby the Corsicana Independent School District receives $6,750 featured a more than three-hour session of the school board Wednesday night.

Other high-lights of the meeting included:

1. Likely changing from oil and coal fuel use in four or six schools to natural gas—but definite decision put off until March 14 meeting since three members were absent.

2. Decided to inaugurate a vigorous collection campaign for the delinquent taxes—will write letters to those owing taxes—voted to invoke the same penalties as charged by the state and county for delinquencies—and as one member said: "We're going after delinquent taxes."

3. Discussed informally a proposed $400,000 school bond election to relieve crowded conditions—a bond attorney was quoted as saying that $71,000 per year would care for such an issue and that the present valuation of $17,000,000 would stand such an increase should the people approve.

4. Designated C. S. Wood as the presiding judge and Wade Smith and Mrs. Sam Spikes as assistant judges for the school board election, April 1, when three posts in the school board will be filled. The balloting will be at the city hall.

5. Requisitioned a new school bus for September delivery and will allow an old bus to be used for transporting the football squads to practice and back, replacing the present old truck.

6. Put off until next meeting the question of shower room and toilets at Tiger Field.

7. Voiced approval of and urged the completion of farm-to-market roads from Emhouse to Cryer Creek to Barry and thence south to Highway 31 via Bryan school district.

8. Approved the payment of $44,836.69 interest and principal on maturing school bonds in February, and $5,717.24 current monthly claims. Athletic council bills were $1,792.13.

9. Authorized payment of E. E. Crowe, bond attorney, $500 fee for the school separation work.

10. Authorized a $152.95 refund to Mrs. E. L. Sanders, Jr., on property where a double payment had been made.

11. Leased one acre campus near school at Corbett to Mr. Perkins for $1 per year for pasture.

12. Approved use of Senior High School auditorium for Dallas Symphony Orchestra, March 2, and the Lions Club Minstrel, March 13.

Bids for the installation of gas burners and a conversion to natural gas as a fuel for schools using other fuels were received from the Tatum Hardware and Air Conditioning Company and from the

Solons Okey Two Texas Tax Bills

AUSTIN, Feb. 23.—(P)—The special session today completed action on the 10 per cent omnibus tax increase and the penny-a-pack cigarette tax boost bills.

Both measures to help pay the costs of raising state hospital standards now go to Gov. Allan Shivers, who has said he would sign them.

The senate vote on final passage of the omnibus bill was 27 to 2. The house gave it a rousing 113 to 18 approval.

Then the house accepted the conference committee report on a measure appropriating $20,612,128 for state hospital and special school support and improvement during the next 18 months.

The only remaining action necessary to completion of the administration hospital program was senate acceptance of the appropriation bill. Action on it was expected early this afternoon.

Final passage of the cigarette tax bill in the house was by a vote of 114 to 9.

The eleemosynary appropriation bill wheeled through the house 136 to 1. The lone dissenting vote was cast by Rep. Joe Pyle of Fort Worth.

The more than two-thirds majorities given the tax bills in both houses means they will become effective immediately upon the governor's signature.

The house vote on the appropriation bill was also by the majority necessary to make it effective immediately. There was no doubt the senate would give the appropriation measure like approval.

The senate was in recess until 2:30 p. m.

Action on the omnibus bill came in whirlwind action breaking a log jam that delayed it in the house yesterday.

The scrap was over a senate amendment tacking up a surplus commodities agency to distribute such goods to the hospitals and special schools. When the house balked at taking it, the senate called the bill back, struck out the questionable change, and shot the measure back to the house where final passage quickly followed.

The omnibus bill was written to raise 20 million dollars in 18 months, 15 million of it for hospitals. It increases the levy 10 percent on oil production, natural gas, sulphur, cosmetics, automobile sales and numerous other items.

It was a key measure in the administration's plan for improving the condition of the hospitals. Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas, who led the opposition to the surplus commodities amendment yesterday.

SOVIETS UNCRUSHABLE, SAYS MOSCOW, WARNING AGGRESSORS

MOSCOW, Feb. 23.—(P)—Moscow newspapers marked the 32nd anniversary of the Soviet army today with the warning that the Russians would not be frightened by "atomic blackmail."

"The Soviet people," said the Communist party newspaper Pravda, "are convinced of the uncrushable strength of the Soviet state. No one can succeed in frightening the Soviet people either with 'atomic' or any other kind of blackmail."

The government paper Izvestia proclaimed that the Soviet force "is the first class army of our time, x x a threat to any aggressors and claimants to world domination."

Writing in Pravda, Soviet Chief of Staff Gen. S. M. Shtemenko declared that Russia alone had been able to crush Hitler's armies and free Europe from the Nazis.

Shtemenko went on to claim that only about one-fifth of the German force was pitted against the Americans and British and that even those were not Germany's best soldiers.

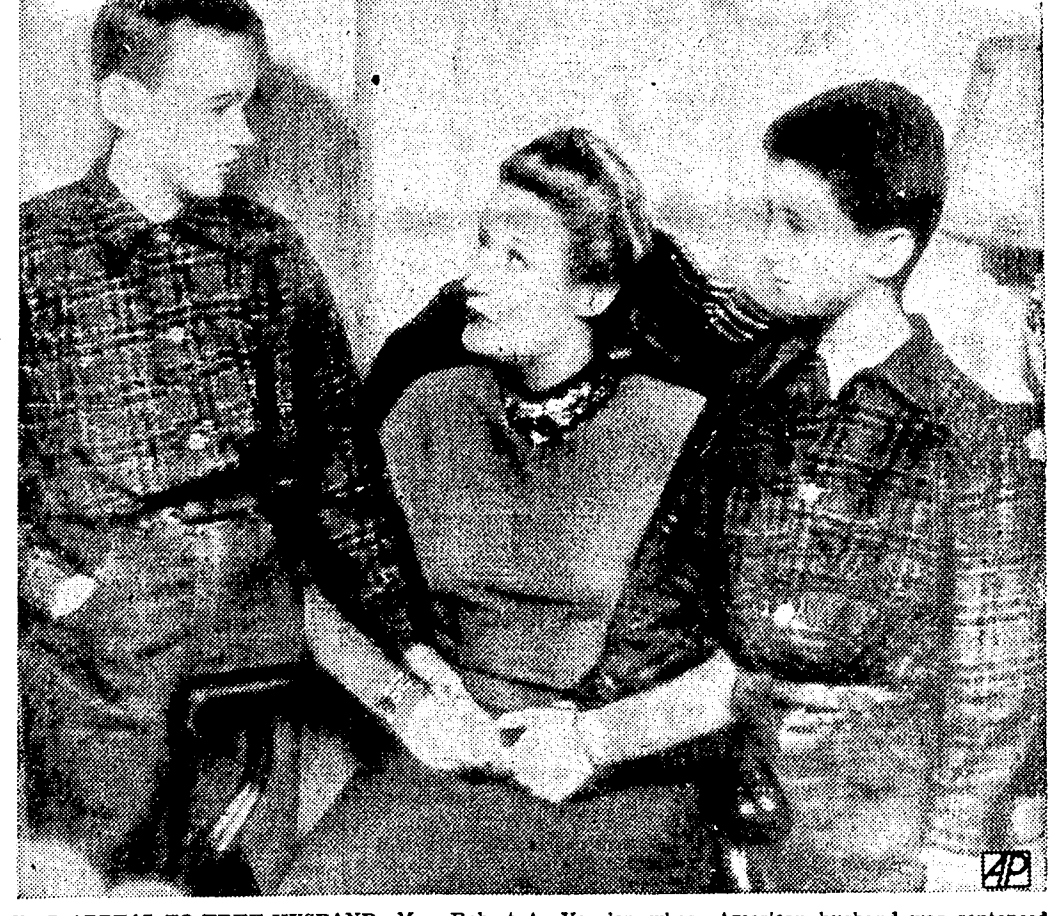

Celebration of Army Day began yesterday. In Moscow many meetings are being held. Leningrad and other Soviet cities also held celebrations.

Rebuilding Of Forward Wall To Get Attention

Seventy prospective Corsicana Tigers are working out daily in Spring football training, Coach Boyd Payne announced Tuesday.

The coaching staff is faced with the task of rebuilding the rugged Corsicana line that paced the Bengals to 10 straight victories and a District 13-AA championship in 1949. Jimmy Wood, all-state guard, heads the list at the present time. The situation in the backfield is not so bad with Duane Nutt, all-state quarter, Rayburn Matthews, deluxe blocker, and others returning.

The Tigers will find themselves the object of pointed attacks as they defend their title in the torrid Central Texas district.

Coach Payne said that baseball practice will be started soon and will be carried along while spring football training is in progress. When pressed as to the activities under way in the training last week, the head mentor volunteered that "We are doing a little work—doing a few things," which means that the training is in full swing.

Hospital Guard's Death Sentence Upheld By Court

AUSTIN, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Conviction and death sentence of a Wichita Falls state hospital guard for murder in the death of a patient were affirmed by the court of criminal appeals today.

The appeal court said the sentence given T. C. Saucier "is provided by law and we cannot interfere with it."

He was charged with killing Thomas Houston Gibbons by stomping, hitting and choking him on March 4, 1949. Gibbons had entered the hospital on that day after having been adjudged insane in Hopkins county, court records reflected.

Saucier's attorneys complained to the appeal court regarding the handling of David Beck, a witness and later convicted as an accomplice.

Beck had refused to testify in Saucier's trial unless granted personal immunity and was ordered held by the court as a material witness, the record showed.

The appeal court held that the trial court was correct in its handling of the matter of Beck, the appeal court said could have been punished for his recalcitrancy since his refusal to testify was on demand of immunity "to which he was not entitled."

"Why should we be called upon to do the useless thing of sending this cause back to give the appellant (Saucier) the privilege of using the testimony of David Beck, who has since been convicted and whose testimony cannot be used," the court's written opinion said.

The appeals court described the facts in the case as "gruesome." The opinion related that the deceased had been turned over to Saucier to be bathed and clothed. Beck was working in the linen room.

The deceased appears to have been fumbling at his shirt collar when appellant struck him in the stomach. The deceased bent over and appellant knocked him down, stomped him, kicked him in the stomach and beat him with his fists. Beck also kicked and stomped the deceased. They then took him into the bath room and there they again knocked him down and both men stomped him," the opinion said.

Gibbons died soon afterward. "The doctors who performed the autopsy testified that the deceased's stomach was torn in two, that he had multiple bruises and that the stomach wounds could have been inflicted by stomping with one's feet," the opinion continued.

"While the verdict is a severe one, it is provided by law and we cannot interfere with it."

"We find no error shown herein, and the judgment is affirmed," it said.

In an increasing number of cases, estimated steel mills generally will have to cut blast furnace operations by as much as 75 per cent next week.

The estimated number of non-miners being made idle by the strike was expected to pass 75,000 when the full effect of a 23,000-man layoff at Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation is felt.

In the meantime, some additional information became available on how far apart Lewis and the operators are on the matter of a new contract.

Although there was no confirmation from the operators, it was understood several of them agreed to grant Lewis a "package" of concessions totaling 80 cents per day per man. Lewis was known to be holding out for more than that.

His basic demands, granted by nearly 2,000 miners, included a 15-cent daily pay increase for a 95-cent daily pay increase.

Ching had found no solution to this stalemate today. Western Electric is important in the strike maneuvers, because its far-flung installation and sales force can set picket lines at every major change. Telephone operators, under CWA's charter, would be bound to respect them.

SCHOOL BOARD

Lone Star Gas Company, but they were not read or any action taken since three members were absent.
Doyle West, who has made a detailed study of the fuel situation, said that the installation would be about $5,000, but that the industrial rate would cut the fuel costs in half as compared with oil and coal and the installations would be paid for in three years or less. A Lone Star Gas representative said that credit over a two-year period could be allowed. The gas people will confer with the absent members—B. W. Woolley who left early, R. L. Wheelock and Dr. W. K. Logsdon—before the March 14 session.

Wm. B. Travis, Senior High School and G. W. Jackson, Junior High are fueled with oil and the others—Washington, Crockett, Austin, Zion's Rest, are gas heated but are on the domestic rate.

Engineers and technicians went into detail relative to the comparative safety measures and safeguards—that no gas lines would go into the buildings above the ground—etc.
Supt. Norwood said that the use of coal must be discontinued for several reasons.

The board voted to join the Texas Association of School Boards and a photo of the group was made for use in the official publication of the organization.

A report on the tax collections showed local maintenance taxes collected prior to February 4 of $133,222.73 and for bonds, $60,196.12 (90.4 percent), as compared with a budget need of $140,200 and $63,360 for bonds. W. H. Norwood, superintendent, said: "This is a deficit of $7,027.27 in maintenance and $3,163.88 in bonds from the budgetary estimate."

Halley Blake, school assessor and collector of taxes, asked for instructions relative to assessing properties in the district outside the city limits. During a discussion of the matter, several members were of the opinion that expert advice be sought so that a correct start could be made in the tax structure. Decision on the matter was deferred for further study. The board does not plan to use the county figures on assessments, it was intimated.

Member Woolley, who reported on the agreement reached with the city administration for the $46,750 portion from the interest and sinking fund and R. L. Wheelock, the committee that negotiated the settlement, was authorized to complete minor details with the city officials after they were praised for a fine job.

Present building needs of the city schools were listed by the superintendent as follows: Senior High—gymnasium, vocational agriculture; Junior High—cafeteria, music; Robert E. Lee—4 classrooms; Sam Houston—auditorium, cafeteria; Wm. B. Travis—2 classrooms; G. W. Jackson—4 classrooms; elementary school, gymnasium, cafeteria; S. F. Austin—2 classrooms; Zion's Rest—Question mark.

The possibility of a site for a new school in the west or north-west section was informally discussed, but no concrete suggestions or proposals were put forth.
The ability to erect suitable gymnasiums without too great expense was discussed along with the future need of additional grounds for school purposes.

Financial, attendance, nurses, cafeteria and failure and promotion reports for the fall term as submitted by the superintendent were received.

In present at Wednesday night's session included Mrs. H. R. Stroube, president; B. W. Woolley, R. R. Brown, Mrs. Festus A. Pierce, Doyle West and Supt. Norwood.

dry weather. But in Western England and in Scotland many of them had to trudge through cold winter drizzles and nasty mists to cast their ballots.

The air ministry's special election morning forecast was for occasional rain everywhere in Britain at some time during the day.

The Pro-Socialist Weekly New Statesman and Nation had predicted that rain would hurt the Laborites and help the Conservatives.

The magazine argued the workers usually wait till nightfall to walk to the polls and might stay at home if the weather is bad. Polls close at 9 p. m. (3 p. m. CST) and final results are expected sometime Friday afternoon.

Both major parties had urged a record vote to insure themselves a winning majority. Both of them had expressed confidence of victory.

Political observers predicted that 75 to 80 per cent of the qualified voters—everyone over 21 except peers, convicts and lunatics—would cast ballots.

In the last election in 1945 more than 25,000,000 people, or 73 per cent of the electorate, voted. Actually, they were not being called upon to choose between Atlee or Churchill or any of the leaders of the minor parties. They were being asked to elect their own representatives in Britain's house of commons.

The party getting the most seats in that parliamentary body will control the government, and the leader of the party will be the next prime minister.

There are a record 1,668 candidates up for the 625 seats in commons.

The third major party, the Liberals, stuck to its old-fashioned road campaign, demanding that neither Laborites nor the Conservatives be given the reins in the next government.

Although their policy was clearly anti-Socialist, they made it clear they were not supporting the Conservatives.

Last-minute statement by the Liberal party—which won only 12 seats in 1945—last night declared it would support the Labor party in parliament if the Laborites failed to get a big enough majority. But the Liberals attached one big condition—that the Laborites drop plans for further nationalization of industry.

The offer was not taken very seriously by Labor leaders, who would probably prefer another election almost immediately, rather than give up cherished plans for public ownership.

Atlee's government called for elections in the face of the major defeats on pro-Socialist government in the British Commonwealth.

New Zealand electors ousted the Labor government they had had for 14 years in national elections Nov. 30, replacing it with a Conservative government. Australia veered away from an eight-year-old Labor government on Dec. 10 to bring in a coalition government of Liberals and Country Party members.

Berlin's Backlog Of Trucks Grows Along Red Zone

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Berlin's truck backlog began piling up along the Soviet zone frontier today as East German authorities grumbled over the new delay in lifting the West German steel embargo.

A line of eighty trucks waited for Eastward clearance this morning on the interzonal autobahn.

Another 40 trucks lined up to leave the Russian zone.

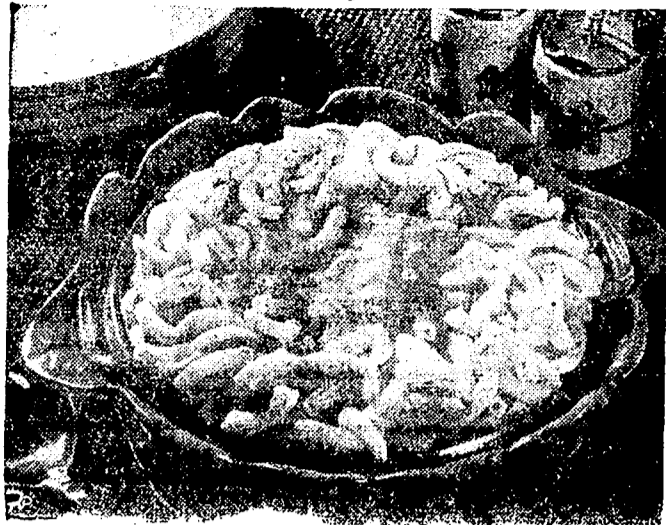

Last night West German economic representatives in Berlin suspended negotiations begun 10 days ago with East German officials on trade disputes.

The Westerners reportedly agreed with the East Germans on terminating the West's steel embargo, but they were unable to sign it until it is approved by the Allied high commission.

Macaroni Meals For Lent

MACARONI CASSEROLE... Satisfying Lenten dish.

SPAGHETTI WITH EGGPLANT SAUCE... Tasty treat.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Macaroni and cheese once a week is a good idea during Lent because it's just about the most popular of all the macaroni dishes, easy to make, inexpensive and nutritious. And here's a new idea for spaghetti. Make a savory tomato-eggplant sauce as we suggest in the following recipe.

Old Fashioned Macaroni and Cheese

INGREDIENTS: 1 tablespoon salt, 4 quarts boiling water, 16 ounces elbow macaroni, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1-4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1-2 pound American cheese (grated).

METHOD: Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan over low heat; blend in flour. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Stir in mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Grease a 2-quart casserole; add alternate layers of macaroni and cheese, ending with the cheese. Pour white sauce over macaroni and cheese in casserole. 2

Bake in a moderate (350F.) oven 35-40 minutes or until top is lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Spaghetti With Eggplant Sauce

INGREDIENTS: 3-4 cup olive oil, 1 medium eggplant, 1-2 cup chopped onion, 1 clove garlic (minced), 2 No. 2 cans tomato puree, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 drops tabasco sauce, 1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces spaghetti, grated Parmesan cheese.

METHOD: Heat olive oil in large skillet. Pure eggplant and cut into small cubes; add to oil in skillet with onion and garlic and saute 5 to 10 minutes. Add tomato puree, 2 teaspoons salt, pepper and tabasco sauce. Cook for 1 hour, stirring frequently. Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Arrange spaghetti in the center of an oblong serving dish; pour sauce in a wide border down each side. Serve with grated Parmesan cheese.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Get That Homework Done

Miss Gilbert, our grammar school principal, spoke the other night at the regular Parent-Teachers' meeting, on getting children to do their homework when they want to listen to the radio.

"We mustn't give them a flat 'no,'" Miss Gilbert said. "If we adults really believe in tolerance and moderation, we should instill these qualities in our children. Listening to the radio is fine—in moderation—as long as homework gets done, too."

From where I sit, the lady was dead-right. This radio vs. homework problem is a wonderful way to see to it that our youngsters acquire the sensible moderate habits they'll need later on.

I've never believed in hard and fast rules—except where absolutely necessary. Let the other fellow do as he likes, as long as he's temperate and tolerant. Guess that's why I've never felt we should quarrel with the fellow who is partial to a glass of beer—the "Beverage of Moderation."

JAMES BLAIR DAR CHAPTER ENTERTAINS WITH GEORGE WASHINGTON PROGRAM-TEA

James Blair Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, entertained with a program-tea at Kinsloe House Tuesday afternoon in observance of George Washington's birthday. A personnel of more than two hundred and twenty-five shared in the patriotic courtesy. Greeting members and guests upon arrival at Kate Whiteside Auditorium were Mrs. Will Miller, hostess of the tea; Mrs. Clara Butler, vice-regent; Mrs. J. Neff, chaplain; Mrs. E. H. Dockery, recording secretary; Mrs. Balfour H. Clark, treasurer; Miss Elizabeth Harless, registrar; Mrs. Lila Wassell, pianist; and Mrs. J. Wesley Edens, Sr., parliamentarian and state chairman of junior American citizens. Mrs. R. B. Molloy, corresponding secretary, distributed attractive program booklets that carried a silhouette of George Washington and were designed by sixth grade students of Robert E. Lee School. Program features Mrs. Will Miller presided and announced the program features, a liltting Mozart minuet and a George Washington cantata by Tillotson-Wilson. The colorfully costumed dancers were members of the fifth grade of Robert E. Lee School as follows: Margaret, Rose Miller, Tom Pugh; Ann Elliott and Jimmie Truitt; Eddie Sue Connor and Freddie Slauson; Mary Kay Bronson and Bill Young; Karen Riley and Pete Allen; Nancy Moore and Michael Phillips; Billie Pope and Robert Keathley. The two-part cantata, "George Washington, Father of Our Country," was presented by the Robert E. Lee School Choir and told the story of Washington in song. A huge American flag was an effective background for the program. Mrs. Alton Truitt, teacher of public school music at Robert E. Lee School, and Miss Lena Mae McClure, supervisor of music in the Corsicana Public Schools, served as director and accompanist, respectively, for the program features. Songs of the cantata were "Let Freedom Ring," "First in the Hearts of His Countrymen," "The Tale of the Cherry Tree," "The Spirit of '76," "The Liberty Bell," "Your Flag and Mine," "Valley Forge," "Long Live the President," "Mount Vernon" and "Salute the Flag."

Choir Personnel—Choir members who presented the cantata were as follows: Sopranos: John Binford, Weeks DuBose, Jackie Elrod, Charles Fry, Bill Knight, Jim Pitts, Kenneth Tekell, David VanderLaan, Billy James Harrison, Martha Fincher, Diana McKinney, Susan Marx, Nancy Morris, Peggy Robinson, Lorna Territo, Willie Portwood, Frances Biddy, Jane Callaway, Betty Ruth Lozano, Mary Lou Daniels, Deanna Fulton, Doris Jean Prowell, Barbara Roberts, Gloria Spencer, Janet Thompson, Juanita Read, Barbara Achilles. Altos: Dickie Lake, Robert Saunders, Lee Roy Fields, Russell Corbin, Ronnie Howeth, Julia Fulton, Harriett Hinds, Annette Logsdon, Becky Beasley, Lyda Fortson, Sandra Shell, Diana Nicholson, Betty Lue Wilson, Leone Griggs, Myra Mahoney, Peggy Presley, Mrs. Alton Truitt, program director; Miss Lena Mae McClure, accompanist; the girls and boys who appeared in the minuet and cantata; the mothers of the participants; the sixth grade students who prepared the program booklets; all officers of James Blair Chapter; Mrs. Balfour H. Clark, reservations chairman; and the telephone and decorations committees for their contributions to the success of the occasion. Out-of-town guests introduced were Mrs. M. N. Chrestman, national vice-chairman of national defense, Mrs. Harold McNeese, chairman of National Defense of Jane Douglas Chapter, Mrs. Phelps J. Murphy, Mrs. Hubert G. Foster, Mrs. Frank Pearson and Mrs. Norman Morrison, all of Dallas. Mmes. Chrestman and McNeese were guests of Mrs. A. B. Horn and Mmes. Murphy, Foster, Pearson and Morrison were guests of Mrs. M. C. Caston. Another outstanding guest in attendance was Miss Zelma Hanson, DAR Good Citizenship Pilgrimage Girl, who was introduced to the assembly by Mrs. W. H. Hastings, chairman of the project. Social Hour Members and guests were invited into the Aultry-Kelley Room where a theme of red, white and blue was featured in appointments for the social hour. The adornment of the polished T-shaped refreshment table cleverly carried out the chosen motif, the center arrangement being a display of red roses, white tulips, carnations and gladioli in an antique silver bowl. Blue satin streamers were silhouetted against a backdrop of gleaming white tapers in three and five-branch candelabra and cascaded gracefully from the floral decor down the length of the table. Giving further emphasis to the chosen theme were the napkins which were inscribed with "James Blair Chapter, D.A.R." and decorated with tiny U. S. flags. Presiding at the three handsome silver coffee and tea services were Mmes. J. Wesley Edens, A. B. Horn and Roy Love. Guests served themselves from trays of chicken salad, sandwiches in hatched design, cheese and cherry tartlets topped with whipped cream. Assisting during the social interlude were the following members of the Junior Group: Mmes. Ed Graham, H. R. Stroube, Jr., Harvey Slauson, Angie Hayes, Lynn Sanders, Jr., Walter Brown, Jr., Valley Lou Ashworth, W. A. Lang, Jr., and Tom Spikes.

port—and maybe some northern Democratic support. The bill would create a five member federal commission to co-operate with state and local agencies in curbing job discrimination against negroes or other minorities. The commission would have power to investigate and recommend—but it couldn't issue cease and desist orders and get them enforced, as under the administration bill. The Dixie members had tried since noon Tuesday to block house action of any kind of bill. They forced repeated time-consuming roll call votes and tried several times to force adjournment. But administration Democrats and a sizeable group of Republicans made clear they were willing to sit it out all night and again to-day if necessary. The administration's floor managers held the upper hand until about midnight, when the Southerners almost forced adjournment. Then, on the big vote some three hours later, administration strategy backfired. The Truman forces had planned to approve tentatively the McConnell substitute, then defeat it on a roll-call and revert to the original administration bill as the finished product that would go to the senate. But the roll-call showed 221 for the substitute and 178 against it, with 104 Republicans joining 117 Democrats, mostly Southerners, in support of the bill. Against the bill were 128 Democrats, 49 Republicans and the lone American-Laborite. That's when the administration decided to call it quits and some back for another fight in the afternoon. Nobody resisted the adjournment, as one of the longest continuous sessions in house history came to an end. Before acting on the McConnell substitute, the house loaded it with amendments. As it finally emerged, the McConnell substitute in effect declares that congress doesn't approve of discrimination in employment but won't do anything harsh to prevent it. The bill says it is the policy of the United States to eliminate discrimination in employment opportunities because of race, creed or disabilities, and political affiliations to this "isting, and in a provision that employment of any member of the so-called minority groups shall create a presumption of lack of discrimination. It also voted to deny any protection of the bill to Communists or persons belonging to Communist fronts. Other amendments would relieve an employer from the necessity of hiring a minority group worker who couldn't prove qualifications; discourage job discrimination because of sex, and exempt the atomic energy commission and its contractors from the bill's provisions. The house turned down, by a tie vote, a proposal to put the McConnell bill on a local option basis, with each state and local government deciding whether to follow it.

Members and guests were invited into the Aultry-Kelley Room where a theme of red, white and blue was featured in appointments for the social hour. The adornment of the polished T-shaped refreshment table cleverly carried out the chosen motif, the center arrangement being a display of red roses, white tulips, carnations and gladioli in an antique silver bowl. 40,000 Pounds Of Butter Received For Distribution

Forty thousand pounds of butter were unloaded in Corsicana Tuesday and an additional 20,000 pounds is on rail siding for unloading Wednesday in Dallas, J. C. Watson, county superintendent who is in charge of a six-county lunch-room program supply department revealed.

The consignment to Corsicana has been placed in Keen's Lockers for distribution to schools in this section. The Dallas consignment is for the Dallas city schools only—half as much as the remaining schools in Dallas, Ellis, Navarro, Kaufman, Van Zandt and Henderson counties. The butter came to Corsicana and Dallas without cost from the government, and other schools are charged freight from these points or haul it themselves. Watson said.

If Corsicana Wants

The Better Things In Life It Must Patronize Them When The Opportunity Presents Itself!

To keep abreast of modern and rare musical entertainment and wholesome educational advantages of various kinds we must fall in line like other progressive communities and patronize such projects when presented to the public from time to time.

Instead of traveling many miles to other sections for such entertainment, at great cost, we can enjoy the same entertainment right here at home if we patronize them when they come.

Such a fine musical entertainment is the Dallas Symphony Orchestra that will appear in Corsicana on March 2nd, is a rare musical and entertainment treat, it being one of eight of the best orchestras in the nation.

This orchestra cost the Dallas citizenship over $295,000.00, and on March 2nd, we will have the privilege of hearing it for the small price of from $1.20 to $3.60—including taxes.

The bringing of this musical organization to Corsicana was underwritten by several of our progressive citizens who are interested in giving our people the opportunity of hearing good music at home.

Many have already made reservations for this entertainment, including a number from surrounding towns and communities. There are still some good seats left.

Reservations can be made by calling at the offices of the Texas Power & Light Company, the prices ranging from $1.20 to $3.60, including taxes.

RELIANCE ON STRENGTH

When the secretary of state takes the unusual step of issuing a prepared statement outlining the intentions of the department with respect to future relations with another nation, unusual importance must be attached to it. Secretary Acheson issued such a statement about Russia. What he said in essence is that no change has been made or is contemplated in the policy toward Russia and Communism. The chief method of that policy has been a new name: instead of the containment of Russia, Acheson now speaks of the development of areas of strength.

The reliance on strength has been the prominent feature of our attitude toward Russia; it is nothing new. But there seems to be in the Acheson statement a suggestion of greater emphasis on strength, a hint that it is to be almost the only principle and the only method of our relations. It seems to be supposed that when strength becomes sufficient in an area of friction, agreement will automatically fall into place. Perhaps it will. But it would be more reassuring to know that other methods of settling the problem were also being sought.

It is apparent that the American people need to give serious study to the problems of our relationship to Russia, and our present national course. If the people are satisfied with the course, there ought to be more solid expression of confidence than there has been, for a course of physical strength needs the complete support of the people as part of the strength. If the people can see another possible course, or believe that another should be sought, that belief should be conveyed unmistakably to our representatives in Washington.

EASIER THAN ACTION

"It is so much easier to stop than to do," so Winston Churchill writes, out of his large experience in government administration. Anyone who has had to deal with government bureaus must have been impressed with the minute reasons they sometimes advance against action when they are not sure of their ground. This sort of inertia is not confined to government, however, but has been noticeable in some private enterprises when there was urgent need for their services, or for a forward step.

MONEY FOR UNIVERSITIES

Yale University is in financial straits. Retiring President Charles Seymour has issued a report to the graduates, saying that a period of deficits was at hand unless generous gifts were forthcoming. Without these gifts it would be necessary to cut the professors' salaries, or at least to fail to raise them when other universities were offering higher pay. That, said President Seymour truly, is the surest way to convert a university from excellence to mediocrity.

Other fields need attention, and money. It is twenty-five years since the latest scientific laboratory was built at Yale, which must look with envy on the facilities for investigating nuclear fission that now rejoice the heart of the University of Chicago.

Economy is possible in some fields in which the effect will not be injurious. And if anyone says off hand that Yale or any other institution is already pared expenses down to the lowest

WISE HEART

The heart has wisdom of a gentler kind
Than that which lights with brilliance the mind.
Knowledge of facts and figures can be gained,
By tutors taught and from the books obtained,
But life has deeper wisdom to impart,
And trains with harsh experience the heart.

Man can be wise and still unfair
Remain; know just what flame will ore to metal turn
Remember facts; forget the sting of pain;
And still not know how deeply scorn will burn.
The mind, perfection constantly demands.
The heart, why mortals miss it, understands.

Life tries to teach us good and ill we share,
Sorrow and suffering all in time must bear.
The mind forgets when failure ends a test
The troubled man is never at his best.
The wise heart, from experience, recalls
That every child needs pity when he falls.

possible point, let him recall a story of President Charles W. Elliot of Harvard. When he told his faculty that they faced a serious deficit, he received the reply that they were already economizing down to the limit.

"Oh, is that so?" returned Mr. Elliot. Stepping to a book store in the university library in which they were meeting, he turned out an electric light burning in a deserted space. Does that shoe fit?

FOOD FOR DUMPING

On the heels of the revelation that the government has to get rid of some forty million bushels of potatoes the best way it can, the Department of Agriculture disclosed that there are seventy-three million pounds of powdered eggs and 169 million pounds of powdered milk which it wishes someone would come and get. The trouble is that not many people are eligible to get them, and there are so many strings attached that most won't bother, anyway. So the same thing may happen to the eggs and milk that happened to the potatoes.

These are foods which the government has bought to support prices. The prospect of dumping them is not pleasing. It is not made any more pleasing by the knowledge that while the government was buying all these potatoes, to prevent the supply from depressing the market, potatoes were being imported from Canada.

LIVES OF CALHOUN

John C. Calhoun still attracts the biographers. Two lives of the great South Carolinian have appeared in the last year, both highly eulogistic. One of the biographers, Charles M. Wiltse, is an Indiana professor; the other, Margaret L. Coit, is a New England newspaper woman.

The authors have obviously been captivated by Calhoun's luminous intellect and the powerful logic of his arguments. In his eagerness to protect slavery, Calhoun finally demanded that the Union be divided into two sections, North and South, each of which would have power to veto the acts of the other.

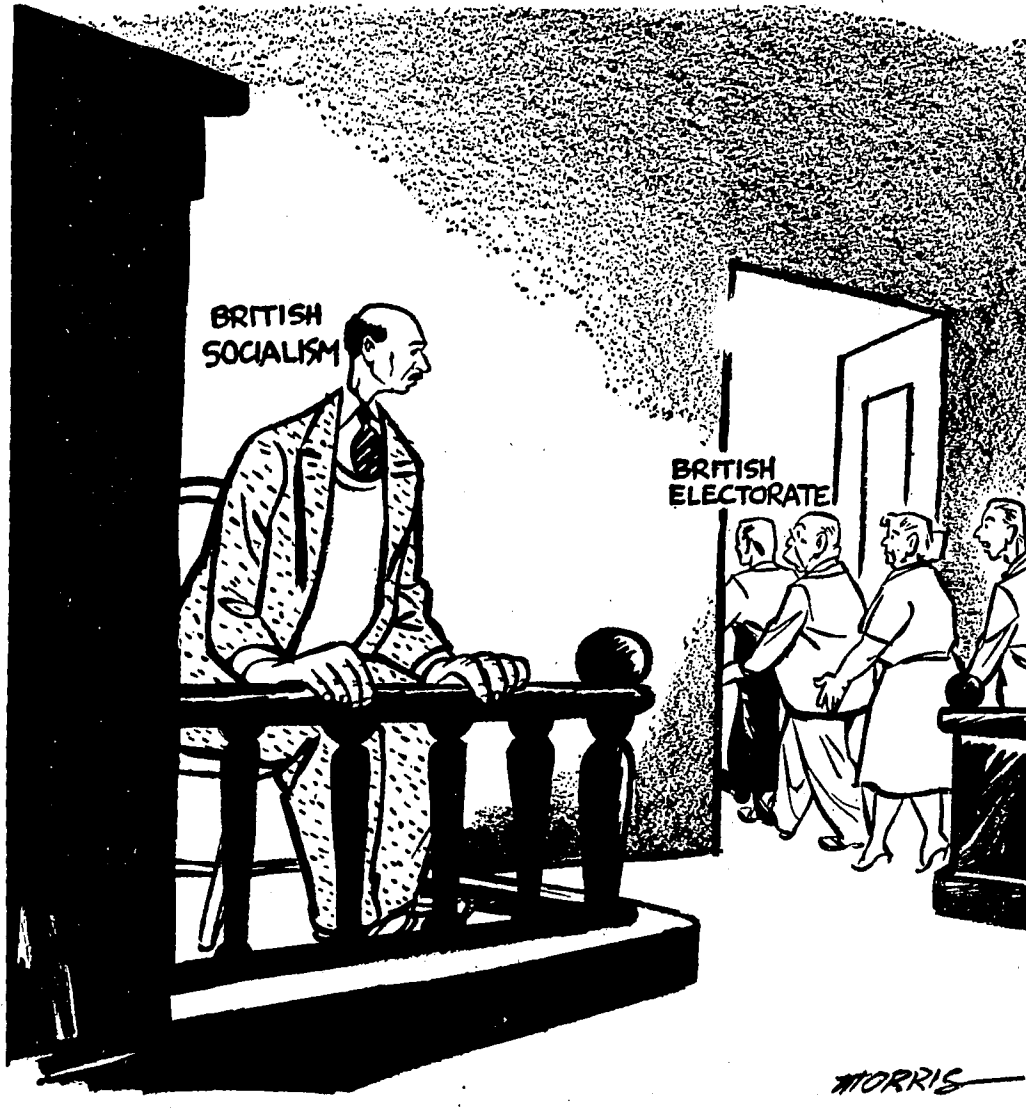

What Calhoun did not foresee, and what his recent biographers have not mentioned, is that the Calhoun doctrines led to a four-year war from which the South has not even yet completely recovered. He was a statesman, but his statesmanship took a direction that led to ruin.

VOTING AMENDMENT

Seldom does the Senate pass two constitutional amendments within a few days. Almost on the heels of the amendment providing equal rights for women, came the amendment abolishing the electoral college. As almost all the Democrats voted for the latter, as well as nearly half the Republicans, its chances in the House of Representatives look good.

By the new system each state's electoral vote would be split according to the division of its popular vote. This would have given President Truman 258 electoral votes in 1948 instead of 303, Governor Dewey 221.4 in place of 189, Governor Thurmond 38.6 instead of 39, and Wallace 9.4 as against none two years ago. The figures for 1948, the first close election since 1916, thus do not support the Republican leadership argument that the new arrangement would hurt the Republican party. The point to consider is the national welfare which in this case hinges on whether the proposed change would help or hinder the survival of the two-party system.

IN THE HANDS OF THE JURY

In the electoral college an elector now can vote for an entirely different candidate from the one whom he pledged to support. A Tennessee elector on the Truman ticket did just that, voting for Thurmond and excusing himself by saying that he had announced his intentions during the campaign. A pertinent point about the whole system is that probably not 100 Tennesseans know that this man was running for elector or knew of his statement. Such a switch might change the result of a close presidential election. That is one of the possibilities that the new amendment aims to prevent.

FIRST AMERICAN MEN

There may have been men in the Western Hemisphere 40,000 years ago instead of 20,000, the figure previously set, if Prof. George F. Carter is right. He teaches geography at Johns Hopkins University and for nearly twenty years has been looking for traces of ancient man in Southern California.

He finally found them near La Jolla, popular resort city on the coast. His findings could indicate that the original American population may have developed here, instead of migrating across Bering Strait from Asia.

Californians will probably say that even 40,000 years ago primitive man must have had good taste, for did he not pick out California as a place to live?

Dollar-A-Day Men—

Local Veterans To Receive Payment For Time Spent As Prisoners Of War

By DON MORRISSEY
Daily Sun Staff

At least $12,500, earned in the hardest possible way, will be released to Corsicana and Navarro county veterans of World War II in a short time. The veterans will receive this money, at the rate of $1 a day, for time spent in German and Japanese prison camps. The figure is an approximate one because actual days spent in POW camps are not available in all cases.

The information on the time these men spent as prisoners was compiled from records of the Corsicana Red Cross office. During the war the local Red Cross chapter attempted to keep in contact with those listed as being prisoners of war.

Mrs. Mary Simpson, local executive secretary of the Red Cross, said they sent letters from the boys' folks and relatives but never were certain they were received. The local chapter also has helped the veterans fill out the necessary papers to get the money. At least 16 veterans from this county spent a minimum of 414 months or total of 12,436 days (figured at 30 days a month) in various prison camps. The majority of the veterans were captured by the Japanese and spent a total of 323 months, or 9,670 days, under Japanese rule. Men captured by the Germans spent a total of 85 months, or 2,566 days, in European camps.

James Hinkle, a member of the Marine Corps, was a guard at the United States embassy in Shanghai when he was captured, Dec. 2, 1941.

To Hinkle goes the distinction of having spent the longest period behind barbed wire of all the local prisoners. He was released at the end of the war and incarcerated for about 46 months.

Three others were members of the "Death March" and they each spent 42 months as Japanese prisoners. They are Eddie Donohoe, Hugh Garland and Elmer L. Costlow.

Capt. Dan Story spent 26 months in the German camp. He was captured Feb. 20, 1945, and spent one year to the date from the time he won his air corps commission. He was released in April, 1946.

Hurshel Reeves and Ronald Moses both served more than 40 months under the Japanese. Reeves was taken April 9, 1942, and released Sept. 15, 1945. Moses was captured March 8, 1942, and turned loose Aug. 30, 1945.

Members of the local Red Cross staff talked with several of the prisoners when they returned to Corsicana and still remember stories told.

One Jap prisoner said the prison camp was all ready for captives when he arrived early in April, 1942. He said:

"On the walls were printed instructions as to how captives were to act. These instructions were dated 1934."

Another recalled the food they were served, consisting of fish eyes, cats and other unpalatable commodities.

Another recalled a favorite trick of the Japs was to call the prisoners out for mail call and then force them to stand at attention while the letters and packages were burned, piece by piece, in front of them.

Following is a partial list of the local men who were captured, length of time they were confined, and by whom taken:

William L. Shultz, Japanese, 31 months; Eldred L. Costlow, Japanese, 42 months; Hugh Garland, Japanese, 42 months; Raymond Myrick, German, six months; Cecil Williamson, German, five months; Walter Farmer, German, 14 months; Eddie Donohoe, Japanese, 42 months; Ronald Moses, Japanese, 44 months; Hurshel Reeves, Japanese 42 months; Dan Story, German, 26 months; James Hinkle, Japanese 46 months.

Lawson Wade, German, 21 months; J. B. Paschal, German, 16 days; Beauford McCraw, German, six months; Oscar McCrory, German seven months, and Lloyd W. Reagan, Japanese, 40 months.

Red Cross officials point out that there were many others besides those listed above who spent time in prison camps. Many spent several months in both Jap and German camps and several spent a few weeks or days, mostly in German camps.

Veterans who haven't filed claims are urged to contact the Red Cross office.

The claims aren't costing United States taxpayers a cent, for the money comes from liquidated enemy assets.

DOCTOR

"No Sir," the doctor repeated. Phinney then asked the doctor what he had learned in his medical training about the effect of injection of air into the circulatory system.

Dr. Loverup replied: "We were taught air injected into the circulation in sufficient amounts would cause death." As the attorney-general finished with the witness, Wyman jumped to his feet to ask:

"Have you any idea of how much air injected into the veins would cause death?" "No Sir," replied Loverup. Speaking softly and slowly, Phinney quoted Dr. Sander as saying that he knew he "might have broken a law but that the law was not right x x x and should be changed."

Dr. Sander is charged specifically with killing Mrs. Abbie Borroto by giving her air injections as she lay dying of cancer in Hillboro county hospital last Dec. 4.

Phinney declared: "Because of Mr. Borroto's pleadings and because Mr. Borroto was a good friend of his probably a moment of weakness he injected the air."

Phinney said that Sander, also in reply to a question from Dr. Robert Biron, county medical examiner, said he thought the Borroto would have lived probably two more days.

Phinney said the statements he quoted came from a conversation in which Dr. Sander "talked freely and voluntarily" to Dr. Biron.

Phinney said that when Dr. Biron inquired about the air injections, Dr. Sander stated "that due to the pleading of Mr. Borroto to relieve his wife he injected air into Mrs. Borroto's veins."

The attorney general told the jury Dr. Sander told Dr. Biron that he administered 10 cubic centimeters of air successively four times—a total of 40 CC's.

Dr. Sander and Mrs. Sander sat close together behind the defense table approximately 10 feet from the attorney general.

Both listened attentively to every word.

The attorney general told the jury "Dr. Sander said he agreed she (Mrs. Borroto) had died of the air injections."

This conference between the doctor—Biron and Sander—took place in the research library which you saw in the yesterday in the presence of Miss (Josephine) Connor (hospital librarian) and Mrs. Amelia Sander, who was assistant to Miss Connor," Phinney said.

"About this time the sheriff called by Dr. Biron arrived. Told by Dr. Biron as to the notation of the air injections on the hospital records, Dr. Sander again freely told the sheriff the facts substantially as he told them to Dr. Biron."

"He said in addition he did not know it was breaking the law; that every doctor knew that, but that his conscience was clear and that morally he had not done anything wrong."

Phinney told the jurors that Mrs. Borroto's pulse was very weak early on the morning of Dec. 4—the day she died.

A day nurse—Mrs. Rose—came on duty and found her unconscious. Dr. Sander telephoned about 10:15 a. m. to ask about Mrs. Borroto's condition, and was told she was about the same.

Dr. Sander went in later to visit Mrs. Borroto, took her left wrist to take her pulse, and then asked the nurse whether there was a 20-CC syringe available.

The nurse said she did not think so and the doctor then asked her to get a 10 or 20-CC syringe, and a sterilized needle.

The nurse went to a medical locker which the jury saw yesterday and obtained a 10-CC syringe, an alcohol sponge and a needle, and returned to the room.

The nurse said Dr. Sander took the articles, swabbed Mrs. Borroto's left arm and injected the needle into the vein.

The doctor remarked as he did so that air in the vein would be like an embolism (stoppage of the blood stream).

The nurse noted Mrs. Borroto's face then and there appeared no change.

Within two or three minutes the doctor turned and handed her the syringe and indicated Mrs. Borroto was dead.

People Are To Blame—

Crime, Communism, Traffic Deaths Are On Increase, Garrison Says Here

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas public safety department, today warned Corsicana Rotarians on the dangers of the increase in crime, communism, and traffic deaths in the United States. He charged that all three increases could be blamed on the apathy of American people who refuse to exercise their rights as citizens who will not stay on the job to help and to see that officials do the right sort of a job.

Speaking of the increase in crime, Garrison said: "We saw the increase after World War I and watched it grow until the public pitched in and helped. We warned that the same would follow after World War II but few believed us."

"Now we see it happening again. It is a greater increase than was predicted. Crime in the United States is at its highest peak in history."

He went on to add that the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington had files on 7,000,000 known criminals. He added: "A major crime happens in the United States every 18 seconds."

Texas crimes, he said, increased 13 per cent in the first nine months of 1949 over the previous year and have risen 50 per cent since 1944.

"In January, our department received finger prints of 5,335 persons who had committed crimes in Texas in Jan. 1949, we received 146, or the 1950 number, 2,351 had previous criminal records."

The safety director said one reason for crime increase in Texas was because there were no certain of punishment for the arrested. He claimed certainty of punishment was the best way to decrease crime.

Selling traffic safety is the hardest job of all, he declared. He traced the history of the governor's traffic safety committee organized in 1937 and showed how that campaign dropped the traffic death toll by 431 in 1939. In 1939 it dropped 27 more. But he said, we let up in 1940 and we had 174 more traffic deaths and in 1941 a total of 1,969 were killed.

The war years, he added, cut the toll by 50 per cent. Deaths in later years were: 1,417 in 1945; 1,959 in 1946; 1,997 in 1947 and 2,059 in 1948. He said that the records wouldn't be closed until March.

Economic losses from traffic accidents in 1943 amounted to $83,000,000 in Texas, he said, and 63,000 persons were killed or injured.

Garrison outlined how the department predicts its fatal statistics from its records and pointed out that they generally are pretty close to the actual figures.

"The third greatest problem facing police officers and the American public is Communism," said the speaker. He added:

"I believe there is something to this Communism talk. It's more than a Red scare. It has grown until it overshadows the world."

Communism has grown until Russia now controls 25 per cent of the world and more than one-fourth of its population.

"Too many Americans are falling for the Pied Piper talk of the Communist party."

"They don't know where they are going and they are tearing down the government their forefathers built."

Garrison said he didn't think America needed a secret weapon to defeat the Communists, but that the constitution and the laws should be made more useable and then enforced.

He said "If the American people continue to be as apathetic to Communism as they have been to traffic, we will soon reach the brink of destruction."

W. E. McKinney introduced the speaker.

Jay Silverberg announced at the meeting that the Dallas Symphony orchestra would be in Corsicana on March 2 and 3, and that Dr. J. C. Quinn would speak at the local Episcopal church on Feb. 27 and 28.

Guests at the meeting included:

Student guests Elbert Merry and Bobby Stagers, Silverberg, W. E. Walker, Kerens, Sheriff David Catlett, Mayor Hubert T. Braselton, Police Commissioner J. E. Davant, Texas Highway Patrol Captain Sam Gardner, Waco, and Patrolmen Henry Tucker and Jack Gaines, both of Corsicana; L. P. McIntyre, Athens; J. M. Ray, Athens, and Jack Schuh, Mexico.

Aviation To Play Big Role In U. S. Census Taking

American aircraft will play an important part in assuring that the 17th decennial census to be taken next April will be the most complete ever carried out by the census department.
Even the personnel of lonely civilian aircraft stations on the tiny islands of the wide Pacific will be sought out and counted. Through the co-operation of the Civil Aeronautic Administration, pilots of commercial airlines will carry with them individual census report forms to the earth-bound men who are stationed on far-away dots on the map.
Americans thus will be enumerated on such places as Midway, Wake, Canton and other small places in the Pacific area. The population of Guam and American Samoa will be counted under the direction of their governors. Natives living on Pacific islands which are under ownership of the United States will be enumerated as well as Americans from the mainland.

Bush pilots flying to the remote regions of Alaska will carry materials to be used by enumerators in that vast territory, where

Not a Movie Fan, But He's To Wed Elizabeth Taylor

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Nick Hilton, who will marry Elizabeth Taylor May 6, is not much of a movie fan. In fact, he had never seen his bride-to-be on the screen before meeting her.

The son of Hotel Magnate Conrad Hilton told me he had been catching up on Elizabeth Taylor movies.

"I saw 'National Velvet' over at the studio," he remarked. "Also 'A Date With Judy' or maybe it was 'Julia Misbehaves'."

The 23-year-old Texan said he had seen photographs of Miss Taylor and naturally wanted to meet her.

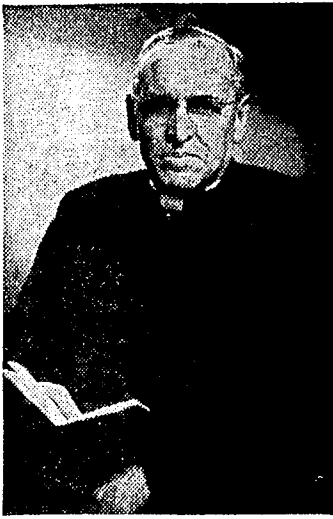

The meeting happened by chance last October when Nick was visiting his pal, Pete Freeman, at Paramount Studios. The romance began immediately.

"There has hardly been a day since then that we haven't been together," Nick related. He popped the question at Lake Arrowhead in early January. Elizabeth had to think it over and later answered yes.

What kind of a guy is Nick? Well, he is just under 6 feet, weighs 170 pounds, has short brown hair and a ruggedly handsome face. He has inherited some of his father's charm and drive, plus a slight accent from his early Dallas days.

He began learning the hotel business as an 8-year-old boy in one of his father's hotels. He has studied the business from every angle and attended Loyola (Los Angeles), Chicago, and DePaul Universities. He did an 18-month stretch in the navy and was a radar man aboard the North Carolina during bombardments of Japan.

"I plan to go into enterprises for myself, rather than stay with the Hilton organization," he said. "In these times, there's not too much to be gained in salaries, which can be 80 or 90 percent taxable."

BISHOP C. S. QUIN

Bishop C. S. Quin, Friend Of Man, To Be Heard Here

This coming Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 27 and 28, Corsicana will welcome back the Rt. Rev. Clinton S. Quin, a man beloved to all those who have known him when he has spoken here in the past.

Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas, Bishop Quin will come from Houston to speak in Saint John's Church Monday and Tuesday nights at 7:45 p. m. He will be the first guest speaker of a series to be heard during the Christian season of Lent.

Reservations have already been closed for a dinner in his honor Monday night at 6:15.

Born in Kentucky, the Bishop has been a great Texan ever since January, 1917, when he came here from his native state. He is often distinguished by the large ten-gallon hat he wears, a habit started several years ago when he was given one by an admiring group of Texans.

As a young man the Bishop studied law at night while working for the Louisville (Ky.) Gas Co., passed his bar examination, and then, as he says, "decided to put my gas experience in a different direction."

Today, he is senior active diocesan bishop of the Episcopal Church. Many commissions of his Church and of ecumenical Christianity include him as a member. A leader in community state and nation, he is well known in the White House and in the tiniest hamlet on the Texas Gulf coast. The general public is cordially invited to hear him both Monday and Tuesday.

The Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Killed Their Own Case!

For ten years the anti-trust lawyers have been attacking the business methods that make it possible to give the public the best quality food at the lowest prices.

In our last ad we told you how Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, at Dallas, threw the anti-trust lawyers and all their inflammatory charges against A&P right out of his court.

But the anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with decisions against them by three federal judges.

They still wanted to destroy A&P.

They Appealed to New Orleans

So they appealed Judge Atwell's decision to the three-judge Circuit Court at New Orleans.

One of the three, Judge Curtis L. Waller, agreed with Judge Atwell that the case should be dismissed.

The other two members of the Circuit Court, Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., and Judge Allen Cox, although saying the case should be tried, agreed that the indictment was vague and contained many allegations which were inflammatory.

They decided that Judge Atwell at Dallas should protect A&P from these inflammatory allegations and could order the anti-trust lawyers to supply the defendants with a bill of particulars.

So the case was back in Dallas again.

Judge Atwell, carrying out the decision of the Circuit Court, struck out the inflammatory matter.

He said that without this inflammatory and prejudicial matter the Grand Jury might never have returned the indictment.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"There are many statements in the indictment which are not at all in violation, and are highly prejudicial and inflammatory."

The anti-trust lawyers objected. They advanced an amazing argument. They said that the removal of their inflammatory allegations (which all four judges had agreed did not belong in the indictment) destroyed their case.

Judge Atwell instructed the anti-trust lawyers to furnish the court with a bill of particulars. In short, he wanted specific charges instead of vague generalities. He set the deadline for furnishing this material at January 15th, 1944.

When the anti-trust lawyers twice asked for more time, pleading sickness among their staff, Judge Atwell extended the time to February 25th because he believed that they were honestly trying, in good faith, to prepare the material he had requested.

Actually, it developed, they were using the time to get ready to drop the case in Dallas and start it in another court.

They Quit in Dallas

On February 26th, while the judge was still waiting for his answer, and without any previous notice to him, the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers in Washington, announcing that they were dropping the case in Dallas.

They said that it was their intention "to file a substantially similar suit in an appropriate jurisdiction at an early date."

The "early date" turned out to be the same day.

As soon as one anti-trust lawyer killed the case in Dallas, another anti-trust lawyer filed a new case in Danville, Illinois. This new case made most of the same allegations that had been made and dropped in Dallas; and that are being made against us today.

So now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, all four judges who had ruled on the Dallas case were wrong.

Despite defeats in three federal courts in widely separated parts of the country, they continued their campaign to destroy A&P.

When Judge Atwell heard of their action he ordered the anti-trust lawyers to prepare an order for his signature dismissing the Dallas case.

In signing this order he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"This nolle prosequi does not have the sanction or approval of this court. That is not necessary, nor that the government ask for the court's approval."

"It is, however, a matter that may be presented to the other court and may be of interest to the people at large."

So after their efforts to destroy A&P had failed in Washington, D. C., Wilson, North Carolina, and Dallas, Texas, the anti-trust lawyers moved on to Danville, Illinois.

They were still determined to destroy this company which had brought more and better food at lower cost to millions of American families.

They Were Wrong Three Times Before!

Three times the anti-trust lawyers went into federal courts and made serious and damaging charges against A&P.

Three times federal judges said the anti-trust lawyers were wrong and rendered decisions against them.

In previous ads in this series we told you about these other anti-trust "cases" involving us, which the judges said were not cases at all.

We think you should know about these previous cases, because once again the anti-trust lawyers are making damaging "allegations" that could seriously affect our business if they were believed by the public.

There was the time in Washington, D. C., when they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix the price of bread in that city.

This was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough ruled that A&P and the other defendants did not even need to put in a defense. He instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Goldsborough said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

There was the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix prices paid farmers for their potatoes.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

There was the time in Dallas, Texas, when they made practically the same "allegations" they are making today.

This was the time Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

It was the time Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I know of no American rule, and I wish I had the power to underscore the word 'American,' which permits us to try a man because of his size."

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

ANCIENT EVILS STILL STRUT ALONG OUR MODERN STREETS

St. Paul Made Frontal Attack Against Evil In Rome's Most Degraded City — The Gospel Worked Then And It Can Be Made To Work Now

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS.

Few tourists have ever included Corinth, the famous—or infamous—Greek city on their itineraries. Though many have passed through the Corinthian Canal, on which the city is situated. That canal, which saves the vessels so many miles on the voyage to and from the East, is simply a huge modern cut through the narrow isthmus that linked the Peloponnese with the Greek mainland.

Today, Corinth is really two cities—the old, abandoned one, whence the population was driven by malaria; and the modern city, where, following the first world war, two American women, Miss Cushman and Miss Carr, exterminated the mosquitoes and broke the power of malaria. It was the old city that Paul knew, and, thanks to archaeology, the visitor today may tread the very streets that he walked and look upon the ruins of beautiful buildings he knew.

Something worse than plague-carrying mosquitoes afflicted old Corinth: the virus of immorality. It was a notorious center of pagan rotteness. To "Corinthianize" was a word of opprobrium that had passed into common speech. We marvel at the audacity of Paul, who dared attack Corinth with the Gospel of purity and love. Something of the flaming fire of missionary zeal has departed from many churches in modern cities.

For 18 months Paul labored at Corinth, supporting himself at the weavers' loom. He had found friends there, Aquila and Priscilla, fellow craftsmen, who had been driven from Rome in the expulsion of all Jews by Claudius. In Corinth the Apostle first preached, as was his custom, in the synagogue; but when Jewish opposition got too hot, he transferred his preaching base next door, to the house of Titus Justus, a convert. In the sudden city life, the Gospel light attracted many, and a strong church was established.

Paul the Pastor. Always the stilling environment of headband enveloped the infant church, with the passing of time, the character and worship of the believers became affected. Faults developed, and reports of these reached Paul in Ephesus, whither he had gone. But he never out-traveled his loving interest in the churches he had founded.

Accordingly, he wrote two letters to the Corinthian church which constitute high-water marks of Christian literature. Paul did not know that he was writing for posterity. Straight out of the heart of a true pastor he poured his solicitude for his flock. In these two letters he reached the apex of Christian teaching. Through the centuries these magnificent portions of Scripture have continued to inspire the world of believers. Words meant only for those new Christian disciples in Corinth have had a universal appeal.

Our lesson this week consists in the description found in Acts of Paul's work in Corinth and a portion of Paul's second letter to the Corinthians.

Post-War Decline. In the place of Corinth put your own city today. Or, if you live in a village or in the countryside, compare what Paul confronted, said, and did with the moral conditions with which you come in contact every day. Thank God, life in our western hemisphere is not so degraded as it was in Corinth, but that we are in the midst of a post-war decline of morals every student of modern life knows only too well. We are in for a mighty struggle against evil during the next few decades, and we had best gird our loins for a tough fight.

What is Paul's advice as we find it in his admonitions to the Corinthians? It is simply this, that religious faith alone will cure evil and set the feet of individuals and nations in the pathway of restraint and peaceful living. A lot of people would like to have us believe today that education will do this for us, or material prosperity, or the teachings of the psychologist.

But through the centuries the church has stood fast on this dictum—which is the cumulative message of the Bible—the nothing suffices for the living of a good life but the grace of God. Man is made in the image of God; he is a temple of God's spirit. What is a temple of God's spirit, what is a man, has he marred that image and defiling the sacred precincts of that temple with sordidness and sin?

The Present Situation. This is the counsel which comes out of the Word of God today to a generation which spends almost nine billion dollars a year for liquor, prodigal the smuttest literature, we have had since the Reformation, and makes immorality so easy that youth is positively encouraged to indulge.

This is because we are on the wrong track—thinking the wrong thoughts, seeking the wrong ends. We are dazed by the allurements of present-day life. If Paul were writing today he would probably say, "Snap out of it!" Writing "Havering therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God."

Seven Sentence Sermons. Tranquil pleasures last the longest; we are not fitted to bear long the burden of great joys.—Bovee.

License them mean when they cry liberty.—Milton.

Think not the good The gentle deeds of mercy thou hast done; forgotten all; the poor, the prisoner, the fatherless, the widow, who daily owe the bounty of thy hand, Shall cry to Heaven, and shall pull a blessing on thee.—Rowe.

You are not your own; you were bought with a price. So glorify God in your body.—II Corinthians 6:19-20.

It is the cause and not the death that makes the martyr.—Napoleon.

In men whom men condemn as I find so much of goodness still, In men whom men pronounce depraved I find so much of sin and blot, I hesitate to draw the line Between the two, where God has not.—Miller.

Rats and conquerors must expect no mercy in misfortune.—Colton.

New Whiteway In Corsicana Is Near Completion

If favorable weather continues, Corsicana's new downtown whiteway probably will be put in operation the latter part of next week. Fred Harvey, Jr., local Texas Power and Light Co. manager said the crew was finishing up in its installation work at a rapid rate.

At present, power cables are being strung, and all the metal posts on Main, Beaton and Commerce streets are being pointed. The start of operating the new system may be delayed, Harvey said, if the crew replaces other wires on Beaton and Main streets before the whiteway is finished.

He was referring to the lines which control the stop lights and police alarm system. These weather-beaten wires, four in number, are to be replaced with a single cable.

The T. P. and L. manager said the new lighting system will be controlled by a photo eye which will automatically turn the lights on and off.

He said the lights will come on at dusk and will not burn as brightly then as later. He said it will take about 20 minutes for the lamps to reach their full brilliance.

The old lamp posts are the property of the city Harvey said, adding, the city plans to remove them as soon as possible.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Settlement buying put the stock market on a firm price footing today. Final prices were at or near the best levels of the day in most cases.

The improvement was accompanied by a flow of unofficial reports from Washington that the gap between John L. Lewis' demands and the coal operators' offer is narrowing.

Gains ranged from fractions to around a point for favored issues. A good handful of leaders at the same time, either backed down a bit or remained at Tuesday's closing levels.

Turnover hit a rate of around 1,300,000 shares for the full session.

Higher prices were paid for U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Wheeling Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, Admiral Corp., General Electric, N. Y. Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, United Air Lines and Johnson & Johnson.

Census Expected To Show 3,000 Different Jobs

Information on occupations engaging the attention of Americans has been collected by the census takers in every decennial census since 1850. The 1950 decennial census, to be conducted in April, lists all employed and unemployed persons 14 years of age and over for information on the kinds of work they do. Probably well over 30,000 different occupations will be reported.

In collecting data on occupations in the past censuses, the census takers discovered many odd pursuits. There was a woman who gave her trade as "egg-breaker." For eight hours a day she broke eggs to be used in bakeries. Another highly specialized job was that of a man who measured the distance of flight of different breeds of pigeons.

The inventory of Americans at work revealed many other strange ways of making a living. One man ran a "fishworm ranch." Another worked for a tanner as an "unhairer." "Toothpick flavorer" and "whistle-taster" were reported by two others. In the food industry, there were found a "potato-peeler" in a potato chip factory, a man who spent his days as a "ham-sniffer," and one who might have been called an "artillery-man" because he shot cereal out of a gun. In 1940, the enumerators sometimes found the question of occupation touchy. One sensitive young girl, when asked the occupation of the head of the household, replied emphatically, "electrician." When queried as to the kind of business in which he plied his trade, she stated reluctantly, "well, he lights the red lanterns on a sewer construction project."

Methodist Young People Attend District Banquet

More than 200 young Methodists gathered at the First Methodist chapel here Monday night for the annual sub-district banquet. Represented at the affair were young people from four Corsicana churches and four churches within the county. Blooming Grove had the largest out-of-town representation with 28 present. Several counselors and pastors from the various churches were also in attendance.

A. C. Wimpey, director of special activities at Baylor University in Waco, furnished hilarious entertainment with an exhibition of magic, interspersed with witticisms. A delicious meal was furnished by the Women's Society of Christian Service, free of charge. Rev. J. E. Sharp presided over the meeting and led a singing during the first part of the program, with Mrs. Sam Werner accompanying on the piano. Sharp welcomed those present, and Donald Washburn responded. Represented at the session were the First, Central, Eleventh Avenue, North Corsicana Methodist churches, and the Blooming Grove, Dawson, Frost and Kerens churches.

MAN HELD FOR SLAYING TEXAS RESORT OWNER

DENISON, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Murder charges were to be filed today against a 26-year old man of Pottaboro, Texas, in the fatal shooting of R. H. McLean, 43, Dallas.

McLean, a retired automobile dealer who owned a resort on Lake Texoma, was shot late yesterday on a road seven miles west of here.

Sheriff Markle Dicken said the Pottaboro resident admitted the shooting and was being held in jail.

The sheriff said the man apparently was bitter because at one time last year he was questioned in connection with a series of burglaries at Lake Texoma homes.

E. H. Perrin of Sherman told the sheriff that he was following McLean's car when they came to a log barricade across the road. He said McLean got out of his car to move the logs, and a man began to shoot at McLean from behind a tree.

Perrin said the man ran off into the woods after he had emptied his rifle at McLean.

Sheriff Dicken said he and his deputies found the Pottaboro man barricaded in a barn near his home.
